

Imaging and Diagnostic Procedures in the ART Practice

Pietro E. Bortoletto, MD, MSc

Director, Reproductive
Surgery
Co-Director, Oncofertility
Program
Boston IVF
Clinical Instructor, Harvard
Medical School
Staff, Dept. of Obstetrics &
Gynecology
Beth Israel Deaconess
Medical Center
Boston, MA

Imaging the pelvic anatomy is an essential step in the diagnostic evaluation of couples with infertility. This presentation will review different imaging modalities such as fluoroscopy, computed tomography, magnetic resonance imaging, and ultrasound, as well as commonly encountered pathologies which may require further intervention ahead of ART.